GRAND NIA

Mundo Reves wines are the first wines produced by Quentin and Thibault. The first vintage is a Malbec 2009, of which we still have very few remaining bottles. At that time, grapes from La Consulta were bought, but step by step, grapes from higher vineyards started to be acquired. Currently, these two winemakers are producing a blend of Malbec from Chacayes (1,300 masl) and from Paraje Altamira (1,100 masl).

Since 2017, a Mundo Reves Cabernet Franc has been produced, also from Paraje Altamira. This is the wine from which this project, trip to Argentina and story started, ten years ago. They all age in French oak, at least partially, in order to get elegance and complexity.

Grape variety: 50% Malbec/ 50% Cabernet Franc

Appellation: 100% Paraje Altamira (Cepillo). High density vineyard (7,000 plants/ha) and low yield in a soil with a high level of limestone located at 1,000 masl.

Harvest and winemaking: the Malbec is harvested during the last week of March with a natural high acidity. The Cabernet Franc is also harvested early the first week of April so as not to lose its "varietal expression". They ferment separately in concrete vats with indigenous yeasts and few extractions.

It ferments in concrete vats with indigenous yeasts and very few extractions. The wine spends 12 months in French oak barrels (Boutes), out of which 50% are new.

Age of the vines: 20 years

Yield: 6 tons per ha

First vintage: 2019
